

Action for Libraries — February 2002

Nature Journal Available Online via BCR Discounted Subscription

By James Speed Hensinger

BCR is now offering a 10 percent discount on subscriptions to Nature Online full text with archives back to 1997. Annual subscriptions start at $1,350.

Nature Online appears weekly and precedes the print version of the Nature journal by 24 hours. Published in Nature are significant articles from all areas of science. The importance of Nature articles often extends well beyond the confines of a specific discipline. (The impact of Nature on society, measured by the Institute of Scientific Information in Philadelphia, is higher than any other interdisciplinary scientific journal.)

Nature Online also includes the full text for a broad range of informal material in the form of Opinion articles, News stories, Briefings and Recruitment features, and contributed material such as Correspondence; Commentary; News and Views; Scientific Correspondence; book, software and product reviews; progress articles; etc.

To see a sample issue of Nature Online, browse to www.nature.com/nature/free-issue.html.

BCR's subscription year is January 1, 2002, to December 31, 2002, (proratable) and provides access to the backfile from July 1997. More information and the online order form can be found on the BCR Web site at www.bcr.org/~ids/Reference/Nature/.

Next Article | Previous Article | Table of Contents | BCR Publications

Comments to: shoffhin@bcr.org

February 27, 2008

Copyright © 2002 BCR